ROGER in AMAZE:

OR

The Country-mans Ramble

THROUGH

BARTHOLOMEW-FAIR

To the tune of; The Dutch Womans Jigg.

ADzooks, ches went the other day to London town,
In Smithfield zuch gazing,
Zuch thruſting and ſqueezing,
Was never known,
A Zitty of Wood ſome Volk do call it Bartledom-Fair,
But ches zure nought but Kings and Queens live there.

In Gold and Zilver Zilk and Velvet each was dreſt,
A Lord in his Zattin,
Was buſly prateing,
Amongſt the reſt,
But one in blew Jacket came in which ſome do Andrew call
Adſheart talk'd woundy wittily to them all.

At laſt Cutzooks, he made ſuch ſport I laugh'd aloud
The Rogue being fluſter'd,
He flung me a Cuſtard,
Amidſt the Croud.
The Volk vell a laughing at me then the Vezen zaid, Bezure Ralph give it to Doll the dairy Maid.

I zwallowed the affront, but ſtaid no longer there;
I thruſt, and I ſcrambled,
Till further I Rambled, into the fair; (were all at work,
Where Trumpets and Bagpipes Kettle-drums, Fidlers and the Cooks zung Here's your delicate pig and pork.

I look'd around to zee the wonders of the Vair,
where Lads and Laſſes,
with pudding-bag arſes,
Zo nimble were;
Heels over Head, as round as a wheel they turned about,
Old Nick zure was in their breeches without doubt.

Moſt woundly pleas'd, I up and down the Vair did range,
To zee the vine Varies,
play all their Vigaries,
I vow 'twas ſtrange.
I ask'd them aloud, What Country little volk they were?
a croſs Brat anſwered me, Che were Cuckold ſhire.

I thruſt and ſhov'd along as well as e'er I could,
At laſt did I grovel
Into a dark Hovel,
Where drink was ſold: (adſheart,
They brought me Cans which coſt a penny a piece, i'm zure twelve ne'er could vil our Country Quart.

Che went to draw her purſe to pay them for their Beer,
The Devil a penny
Was left of my Mony,
Che'l vow and zwear: (doors,
They doſt my Hat for a Groat, then turn'd me out of Adſwounds, Ralph, did'ſt ever ſee zuch Rogues & Whores.

Printed by and for A. M. and ſold by J. Walter, at the hand and pen in high Holbourn.